Dear Friends,

I hope you are all enjoying your time with friends and family as we explore the magic that comes with the holiday season. Here at CPI, we want to thank you all for your generous support of our organization through Colorado Gives Day and the Annual End-of-Year Appeal. I know you are approached by many organizations asking for your assistance this time of year, and I can truly tell you that every donation that comes into CPI makes an incredible difference. Every dollar you commit goes directly back into the communities we support through the programs and mission of CPI. It is times like this when I cannot help but feel a bit like George Bailey in the

CPI. It is times like this when I cannot help but feel a bit like George Bailey in the classic film It's a Wonderful Life. Your support means so much and I am heartened by its message. I also know that with your donation comes a deep responsibility and it is not one I take lightly. So on behalf of all of us - Board and Staff - thank you and Happy Holidays!

For our Past, Present, and Future,

Jennifer Orrigo Charles

FEATURED TOUR: Denver's Cathedral in the Wilderness

In 1861, Denver City was incorporated, and Colorado became a territory, and the "Saint John's Church in the Wilderness" congregation was chartered- so named because the nearest Episcopal parish was seven hundred miles away in Kansas. The cornerstone for the current Cathedral at the corner of 14th and Washington was laid on January 24, 1909, and the first service held within on November 5, 1911. St. John's complex stretches from 14th Avenue to 13th Avenue--an entire city block-- and comprises not only the cathedral nave, choir and apse, but two other chapels (one a 1920s environment; one "mid-century modern") -- with era-appropriate furnishings and artwork in each. Over the years, St. John's Cathedral has added much significant artwork, including Oberammergau carvings from the first Cathedral and stained glass from the Edward Frampton Studios of London and the Charles J. Connick Studios of Boston. Under current leadership, the Cathedral is working on several projects to ensure the long-term viability of the building, the stained glass, and the entire property, to meet historic district/NRHP standards. Join us for to explore and learn about this exceptional Denver space.

FEATURED SESSION

HISTORICORPS
WORKFORCE FOR SAVING PLACES

HistoriCorps to Present at Saving Places Conference 2020

Saving Places Against All Odds: A Model that WORKS

HistoriCorps is a model that WORKS – even when stacked up against the odds of inclement weather, time, fluctuations in funding, and the variables that come with volunteer workforces. The recipe for success? Partnerships, a willing workforce, and just enough funding. By combining these three critical elements, historically significant sites once at risk of disappearing forever can be saved for generations to come.

Join HistoriCorps Founder Doug Stephens, Board Member Molly Fay, and Executive Director Towny Anderson for this 75-minute session to explore the founding, and resulting impact, of HistoriCorps. Two 15-minute clips of the film Saving Places will be shown.

Discussions about what it takes to form significant communities, the funding and workforce necessary to complete the work.

CPI Aids the Rifle Masonic Lodge #129

In November, the State Historical Fund announced it granted the Rifle Masonic Lodge #129 an award to nominate the Lodge to the State Register of Historic Places and to prepare construction documents for the building's rehabilitation. Colorado Preservation, Inc. is proud to have assisted with the submission of the grant proposal. With support from the local community, CPI will be managing the project moving forward.

The Masonic Lodge #129 is a locally landmarked building located in downtown Rifle. Since constructed in 1914, it has contributed to the social and civic life of the Rifle community. Though the Rifle Masonic Lodge #129 has seen few alterations over time, it is now in need of care to address a list of critical and serious deficiencies. Colorado Preservation, Inc. will work with the Lodge to list the building in the State Register of Historic Properties, which will enable the project to access State Historic Preservation Tax Credits and develop construction documents to allow for the rehabilitation of building's exterior and needed maintenance. This work will help ensure the Lodge's longevity and important contributions to Rifle community life.

For more information on this project and others that are possible with the help of CPI, please contact Jane Daniels, Director of Preservation Services at jdaniels@coloradopreservation.org, or at 303-893-4260, ext. 236.

The Colorado Springs HP Master Plan (HistoricCOS) is ADOPTED unanimously!

Historic Preservation has been experiencing a transformation in Colorado Springs. This month, the City of Colorado Springs adopted HistoricCOS, the new historic preservation master plan, the first since 1993. This two and a half year effort involved grant funding from the National Trust for Historic Preservation, History Colorado/State Historical Fund, CLG funding from the National Park Service and the Historic Preservation Alliance of Colorado Springs, the member-based nonprofit advocacy organization celebrating 20 years. The HistoricCOS consulting team included Stan Clausen & Associates of Aspen, Ron Sladek of Tatanka Historical Associates, Inc. of Fort Collins, and Roxanne Eflin Consulting of Colorado Springs. Planning staff efforts were lead by Daniel Sexton, AICP, Principal Planner with the City. This new preservation plans builds upon the City's current preservation plan and coordinates preservation efforts across the city.

"The HistoricCOS Preservation Plan celebrates the legacies of our founders and those that have followed; together our City can embrace its past and be ready to share its heritage. Through HistoricCOS, preservation in the City of Colorado Springs is best understood at the neighborhood level and influenced by willing and active members of the community. The acceptance and incorporation of historic and cultural resources is a central part of the ongoing economic and community development strategy of the City." stated Mayor John Suthers in the Plan's opening message.

Implementation kicks off in January, which is well timed as the City is making plans for its upcoming sesquicentennial celebration. For more information about historic preservation in Colorado Springs, contact Roxanne Eflin (HPA Board President), roxanne.eflin@gmail.com, or Daniel Sexton with the City's Planning Department at daniel.sexton@coloradosprings.gov - or visit <https://coloradosprings.gov/historicccos>.

Building to Become New Location of Amache Museum

On Thursday, December 12, 2019 representatives from TBK Bank, SSB will formally donate its building, located at 108 E Goff Avenue in Granada, Colorado to the Granada School District No. RE-1 in a key handing ceremony.

The building will be used by the Amache Preservation Society (APS) as the new location for the Amache Museum, a museum dedicated conserving the Amache site and its World War II history as the Granada War Relocation Center. The new location will provide space for education and presentations, as well as a dedicated research space that will be used by Denver University and Colorado College research teams while studying the former World War II internment camp.

Mr. Ty Kemp, Superintendent of Granada School District No. RE-1 and Mr. John Hopper, Dean of Students and leader of the Amache Preservation Society, will receive the keys from Ms. Lesli Baca, VP, Regional Operations Manager and Mr. Tyler Thrall, AVP, Regional Retail Sales Manager for TBK Bank.

The donation will occur at 9:30 am on Thursday, December 12, 2019 at the former bank at 108 E Goff Ave, Granada, CO 81041.
